Local company may be chosen to handle 'RFP' for new city hall

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

The West Sacramento City Council will consider awarding a contract tonight for the beginning of a design/build process for a new city hall.

The three-story, $11,360,000 project is planned to be built adjacent to the Arthur F. Turner Branch Library near Merkley Ave. and Westacre Rd., and construction could begin next summer and finish in 2001. When finished, the complex will house city offices, a city council chambers and a galleria which could be used for public events. Eventually, it is also planned to include a senior center.

City Manager Joe Goeden said yesterday that a conceptual design for the 74,000 square foot complex allows room for competing bidders to adjust the "nuts and bolts" of the project if they see room for improvement or cost cutting.

"The conceptual design is there, and they basically bid on that," said Goeden. "The design will say, for example, what grade of carpet to use, but it won't necessarily specify the number of square feet. Or it may call for double pane windows for energy reasons. But it will give them some flexibility to say, 'If I move this wall over here, I can save you a couple thousand dollars.' "

Tonight, the council will consider awarding a bid to put together the "request for proposals" (RFP) to Turner Construction Company of 1450 Harbor Blvd., West Sacramento. Turner's proposal, at $33,000 to prepare the RFP, was noted by staff as more expensive than that of competing bidder Premier Commercial ($14,500 plus $500 per month allowance for reimbursables), but staff felt Turner had a greater depth of staff to handle the project.

Also on the council's agenda tonight is the annual selection of a mayor and mayor pro tem. Christopher Cabaldon currently serves as mayor, and Mike Montemayor as vice mayor. The city has some tradition in rotating the mayor's gavel to the recent vice mayor every year, but some citizens believe Cabaldon should receive another one-year term as mayor.

West Sac mayor reports burglary of his home

The home of West Sacramento Mayor Christopher Cabaldon was burglarized Nov. 14.

According to police records, Cabaldon reported the following day that sometime between 12:30 and 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 14, someone entered his Park Blvd.-area home and took a camera, a removable car stereo, spare change and other small items.

Police believe the burglar entered through an open side or back window.

Cabaldon couldn't immediately be reached for comment on Tuesday.

Anyone with information is asked to call the police department at 372-2461, ext. 262.

TWO KEY RAIDERS: Robert Cervantes & 'Mo' Salman

The River City High School varsity football team wrapped up its 1999 season at Gwinn Field last Friday night with a heart-breaking 8-7 loss to undefeated Golden Empire League champion Mesa Verde. The outcome of the game was in doubt right up until the last two minutes of regulation time, something which became all too familiar to Raider Head Varsity Coach Dennis McIntyre this year.

"In four of our six losses," explained Coach McIntyre, "the ball just didn't bounce our way in the last few minutes of the game. With any luck at all, we could have won a couple of those games, and maybe even all four of them. Unfortunately, sometimes football is a game of breaks, and although the kids played their hearts out this year, we weren't able to come up with enough victories to get into the playoffs. But there wasn't a time this season that the team didn't play as hard as it could and my only regret is that our players didn't get a chance to experience all the success they truly deserved."

Coach McIntyre is losing 27 of his young athletes to graduation this year and many of them are really going to be missed.

"Our whole offensive line is graduating," said Coach McIntyre, "and they were a real important part of our team this year. Mohammad Salman, Clay Harrell, Mario Santos, Jacob Brown and David Saldana all did a great job of opening up holes for our running backs and they're going to be hard to replace. The tight end plays a big part in our rushing game, too, and when Eric King was healthy, he also did an outstanding job of blocking for us."

Although River City preferred to run the ball in 1999, they also had quality receivers to catch the ball when quarterbacks Brooks Marino and Zafar Niazi dropped back to pass.

"The thing I really liked about the play of our receivers," said Coach McIntyre, "is that they all did an outstanding job of downfield blocking. Marshaun Tate, Frankie Medina, Rakesh Sharma and Yassar Salman were particularly good at that aspect of the game and it definitely helped us break a number of long runs."

When it came to running the football, River City had one of the most talented and feared backs in the Sacramento Valley this year.

"Malfred Shaw gained over 1500 yards in our ten games," said Coach McIntyre, "and he is one of the best running backs to ever play for River City. He's both physical and fast, and that's a hard combination to stop. He averaged over seven yards a carry and he's everything a coach could want in a running back. Our fullback, Robert Cervantes, had a fine year, too, both blocking and running the ball. And we were also fortunate this year to have a good field goal kicker and punter in Morton Geivett."

On the defensive side of the football, River City spent most of the year improving and saved their best effort for the final game of the season against powerhouse Mesa Verde.

"Mo Salman, Clay Harrell and Mario Santos anchored our line all year long," said Raider Varsity Defensive Coordinator Brian Watkins, "and we were very consistent when it came to stopping the run. Eric King, Rakesh Sharma, and Robert Cervantes helped make us more physical, and Eric in particular had a number of games when he simply dominated. Our defensive backs were led by Marshaun Tate and Frankie Medina, both of whom were outstanding at coming up and supporting against the run, and Bernie Stanhope, who continued to improve as the year went on and had his best game against Mesa Verde. Yassar Salman also turned out to be a fine free safety and although most of the teams we played against had 50 or 60 kids on their roster, I'd take my 30 any day."

"This year's team had some very talented athletes on it," added Coach McIntyre, "and although we didn't have much depth, I'm very proud of the way our players always left everything they had on the field. They played with courage and heart and that's really all you ask of any football team."

Even though River City is losing most of its offensive and defensive starters to graduation, both Coach McIntyre and Coach Watkins see a bright future for the Raiders.

Receiving a statewide honor

Margaret Crawford

The California Association of Library Trustees and Commissioners (CALTAC) has selected long-time West Sacramentan Margaret Crawford for the association's award in the category of trustee, commissioner or system advisory board member. The award was conferred at a Nov. 13 luncheon conference in Palm Springs, which Crawford was not able to attend. Crawford was selected as the association's statewide award winner.

She was cited by CALTAC for innumerable hours of service, including serving as a member of the Yolo Co. Library Advisory Board (including a term as president). She has been active in CALTAC activities and attended many regional meetings and conferences. Her service has also benefited Clarksburg's library.

Crawford has been an organizer of the many fundraising book sales for Arthur F. Turner branch library in West Sacramento, with friend Phyllis Runyan. The pair have worked with the Friends of the Library organization to use volunteers to set up and execute the books sales. Money from the fundraiser has enabled the Friends to purchase many special items for the library. The Crawford garage had frequently overflowed with books donated for the sale, since there has been no other place to store the material between sales.

A visitor to the library will often find Crawford working behind the scenes sorting books and performing other tasks. She often lends her beautiful coffee and tea server for use during art receptions several times a year honoring local artists who are exhibiting their work at the library's meeting room.

Hit & run —

A suspect has been arrested in last Wednesday's hit-and-run injury of a Jefferson Blvd. bicyclist. The 62-year old victim received minor injuries to a leg from the accident.

At about 5:18 p.m., said Lt. Ray Hensley of the West Sacramento Police Dept., the victim was exiting a liquor store parking lot near 11th St. and Jefferson when he was struck by a northbound car. The suspect then abandoned the car and fled the scene.

"Officer Tyler did some follow-up and traced the car through a succession of owners. A suspect was then located and arrested," said Hensley.

Taken into custody was Roderick Vaughn, whose age and city of residence were not immediately available.

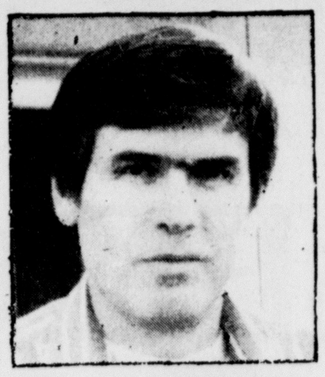
Are 'dumb men' jokes as funny as 'dumb blonde' jokes?

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

Awhile back, a friend of mine gave me a book full of "dumb blonde" jokes and like the fool I often am, I printed a bunch of them in a column that I thought was pretty funny. Although a couple of readers took the time to remind me that "dumb blonde" jokes are now politically incorrect (not to mention tasteless), only one actually demanded equal time. I told her I was truly sorry, but that I really didn't have the foggiest idea of how one would go about finding "dumb men" jokes. Well, apparently she did, and here are a few of the ones I liked the best:

Men are like bank accounts. Without a lot of money, they don't generate much interest.

What is the thickest book in the world? "What Men Think They Know About Women".

Why don't men have mid-life crises? Because they are stuck in adolescence.

What's the difference between a man and a messy room? You can straighten up a messy room.

How was Colonel Sanders a typical man? All he cared about were legs, breasts, and thighs.

How is being at a singles bar different from going to the circus? At the circus the clowns don't talk.

Why are husbands like lawn mowers? They're hard to get started, they emit foul odors, and they don't work half the time.

How many men does it take to pop popcorn? Three. One to hold the pan and two others to act macho and shake the stove.

How do men sort their laundry? Into "filthy" and "filthy but wearable".

What does a man consider a 7-course meal? A hot dog and a six pack.

Men are like high heels. They're easy to walk on once you get the hang of it.

How does a man take a bubble bath? He eats beans for dinner.

What's the difference between men and government bonds? Bonds mature.

How many men does it take to change a roll of toilet paper? Who knows? It's never happened.

What's the difference between a new husband and a new dog? After a year, the dog is still excited to see you.

What do you call a handcuffed man? Trustworthy.

Why are men like commercials? You can't believe a word they say.

What is the most effective birth control device for men? Their manners.

How does a man show he's planning for the future? He buys an extra case of beer.

Men are like Lava lamps. Fun to look at, but not all that bright.

Why are men like blenders? You need one, but you're not really quite sure why.

What do you instantly know about a well-dressed man? His wife is good at picking out clothes.

Why do male bosses have such poor grammar? Because they end every sentence with a proposition.

Men are like parking spaces. The good ones are taken and the rest are too small.

How many men does it take to mop a floor? No one knows; they've never done it.

MEN-tal anxiety, MEN-opause, MEN-tal breakdown. Ever notice that most all problems start with men?

What's the difference between a man and Bigfoot? One is covered with matted hair and smells awful. The other has big feet.

Men are like copy machines. You need them for reproduction, but that's about it.

Why are so many married women heavier than single women? Single women come home, see what's in the refrigerator and go to bed; married women come home, see what's in bed and go to the refrigerator.

Why don't men cook at home? Because no one's invented a steak that will fit in the toaster.

Behind every great women is a man telling her she's ignoring him.

River City's varsity football team played a tough game on Friday, only to lose for the fourth time this year in the last two minutes of the game. The game against Mesa Verde stayed scoreless until the fourth quarter, when River City scored with 4:38 left on a 10-yard run by Marshaun Tate, and Morton Geivett kicked the extra point.

With 2:01 left, Mesa verde scored on a 17-yard pass and passed for the conversion, putting Mesa Verde ahead for the final score of 8-7.

River City took the kickoff and got back to about the 30-yard line before having to give up the ball for a game-ending Mesa Verde possession.

On offense, River City was led by Malfred Shaw, who carried 22 times for 82 yards; Robert Cervantes, who carried 11 times for 53 yards; and Tate, with five carries and 41 yards.

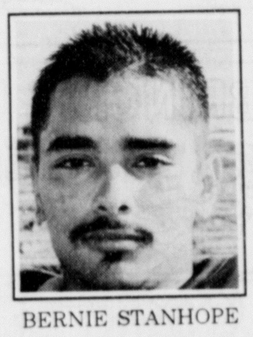
Player of the Week

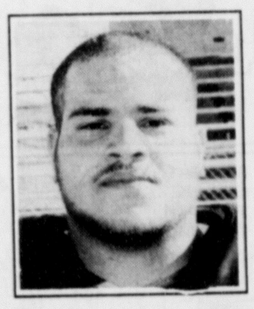
No. 42, Bernie Stanhope: Bernie a 5'7", 140 pound senior, had an outstanding game against Mesa Verde. He played cornerback, covering a 6'4" receiver for most of the evening and doing a fantastic job. He was involved in eight tackles and denied Mesa's Verde's receiver more than eight passes.



BERNIE STANHOPE

Hitter of the Week

No. 72, Mohammed Salman: Mohammed, a 5'9", 250 pound senior, had a number of "big hits" throughout the year and against Mesa Verde. He plays guard on the offensive line and nose guard on defense. Mohammed's biggest hit came on offense, when he pulled a reverse and "flat backed" one of Mesa's corner backs. Mo was also involved in 13 tackles on defense.



MOHAMMED SALMAN

Hitter and Player of the Week will each receive a meal from Whitey's Jolly Kone on Jefferson Blvd., which has sponsored the weekly award for the football team this year.

Sports Insider

The Sacramento Kings (3-1) are off and running this season gunning down the Denver Nuggets Sunday night 124-114. The Kings, led by Chris Webber's game-high 32 points, are running the floor with reckless abandonment scoring the most points since Dec. 26, 1996 against the Celtics. Don't be surprised to see the Kings score 150 points this season! The Kings will host Vancouver on Tuesday night, then hit the road to Texas for a short road trip that will take them to Houston on November 16 and to Dallas on Friday night. The Kings next home game on Sunday, November 21 will bring sir Charles Barkley and the Houston Rockets to the Arco. Tickets are still available for next home stand, which includes New Jersey on Nov.23 and Golden State on Nov. 26.

The Oakland Raiders (5-4) finally put together all facets their game to beat San Diego 28-9 before a small crowd 40,000. The Raiders moved into a second place tie in the AFC West with the Chiefs, two games behind the division leading Seattle. Quarterback Rich Gannon had a beautiful game passing for 254 yards and four touchdowns in addition to running seven times for 43 yards. Next up for the Raiders are the defending champion Denver Broncos on Monday night.

The Saints (1-8) came marching in on the stumbling 49ers (3-6) last Sunday in New Orleans. The Saints beat the Niners 24-6 holding the 49ers to two fields again. The 49ers started Steve Stenstrom at QB but it didn't help.

General Manager Bill Walsh is digging deep looking for a quarterback to pull the 49ers out their tailspin. The 49ers invited ex-Raiders QB Jeff Hostetler to try-out and at the same time send trouble making Lawrence Phillips packing. What scares me is that the 49ers have lost to Pittsburgh and New Orleans the last two weeks, while the expansion, Cleveland Browns (2-8), beat both these teams. Can you believe the Rams are 7 ½ point favorites over the 49ers at home! I have never heard so many 49ers fans talk about abandoning the ship. I know times are tough but look at the Packers, Cowboys, and Falcons, who were all playoff teams, fighting for their lives. The league wanted parity and with expansion, salary caps, and few star players out for the season, we will crown a new NFL champion in the year 2000.

My weekly picks took a tumble dropping me below .500 again! The 49ers and Packers both lost but the Jets on Monday night saved me. My record stands at 11 wins, 12 losses, 1 tie. This week I like Arizona (NL) at home over Dallas, the Packers (NL) over Detroit and on Monday night take the Raiders and the points over Denver.

The Sacramento Knights (17-5) are in first place, 1 ½ games ahead of Dallas. The Kings are clinched home field advantage for the playoffs on December 3 at the Arco Arena. If Dallas loses one more game the Knights could end up hosting the championship game on December 12.

The Knights fans enjoyed a great season, watching the Knights go undefeated at home for the first time in their seven-year history and setting a franchise record of 12 consecutive wins.

Boxing returns to Sacramento on Tuesday, November 23 at the Radisson Hotel featuring Roseville middleweight Eric Regan (6-0, 6 KO's) in the main event. Promoter Don Chargin will mix in a little kickboxing with three boxing matches. Did anybody fall asleep during that great heavyweight title bout last Saturday? Lennox Lewis, who was a 2-1 betting favorite, won a unanimous decision over 37 year-old Evander Holyfield.

I think its time for Holyfield to join the HBO broadcasting team.

See ya next week!!

their league championship," said Coach McIntyre, "and from what I've seen and heard, they're going to be pretty good in a year or two and I'm really looking forward to coaching them."

"It's always a little sad to see a group who worked as hard as this year's team did graduate and move on," added Coach Watkins, "but I'm just thankful that I got to coach them and I wish them all the very best."

Coach McIntyre and Coach Watkins were ably assisted this year by Bob Hunter, Bob Orndoff, Lane Mattos, and Junior Varsity Coach Bryce Elliott.

Junior class struggles with debt

By Coty A. Marshall
Staff Writer

"First of all, the class of 2001 has very little spirit," agreed Mugeda Ferouz, junior class president, and Rebekah Marshall, vice president. Rebekah and Mugeda report that it is always "the same twenty people out of our class of 350-400 students who work the numerous fundraisers." Mugeda matter-of-factly stated, "We need more participation."

The class of 2001 started out at RC with no money. The Golden State bookkeeper left, and no one took over her position. Thus, "we had no idea where our money was," said Laura Vasi, ASB treasurer a junior. The very first week of their freshman year, they had to borrow about $500 from ASB. "Ever since then, we've been in debt," said Laura.

Presently, the junior class is in debt about $400. There are several events that have contributed to this. Their freshmen year responsibilities included purchasing supplies for spirit day and their homecoming float. They were in charge of the Valentine's Day grams.

Every sophomore class in recent years has had an In-n-Out Burger trailer come to RC, but last year RC wasn't scheduled. That was a big disappointment. Mugeda said, "That was the big moneymaker, and we lost it." Their sophomore year, they bought decorations for spirit day. They bought supplies for their float, worked the snack bar at Homecoming, and bought rally decorations.

> "We started out in debt and to get out of debt with fundraisers, we had to go even deeper in debt to get the fundraising supplies."
> --Rebekah Marshall

They recently borrowed $600 from ASB to make the junior float and buy candy. This year, they were also in charge of renting the trailer boxes for the homecoming floats.

This year, the junior class is required to solely host Winter Ball and Prom. Last year they paid more than $1,000 to reserve the Tsakopolis Library Galleria for this year's prom. Using their funds, and funds borrowed from ASB. The junior class has since borrowed more money for Prom expenses.

None of the three blame the class debt on their responsibilities, however. Mugeda says that every class encounters such problems.

Laura said, "I don't see why we shouldn't have to go through it. It's our job and we should have to deal with it."

Rebekah said she enjoys the responsibilities that are placed on her and the other class officers. "The other officers are great and always follow through," she said.

On November 13, they will go from door to door collecting spare change. They need all they can get. The junior class is also going to put up boxes or cans in local grocery stores asking for donations to RC's '99 Prom fund. The class officers are thinking about holding a spaghetti feed and may also hold car washes.

"We're doing all the fundraising we possibly can," says Mugeda. "We have done numerous candy sales."

Rebekah said, "We started out in debt and to get out of debt with fundraisers, we had to go even deeper in debt to get the fundraising supplies."

For Laura Vasi, being in debt is a "learning experience." She said it's been a great way to think of future ideas for their class.

Rebekah Marshall said being in debt is "just how it goes sometimes." She said they're trying very hard to get out of it. The class of '01 believes they will get out of debt this year. Mugeda says, "Yeah, we'll definitely be out of debt by Prom."

Give your crush a can of Crush

By Coty A. Marshall
Staff Writer

The junior class will hold a fundraiser from Monday Nov. 29 to Monday Dec. 6. This is your perfect opportunity to reveal your true feelings for your crush. On Nov. 29 and 30 they will be sell cans of "Crush" soda during both lunches for $1.50 per soda. You can purchase insurance for $.50, insures that your "crush" will not find out that you sent him/her the soda. If insurance is not purchased, finding out who sent a "Crush" costs $1. Monday Dec. 6 is the last day to find out who has a crush on you.

Sam Rose to stand trial in February

By Ivy Branaman
Staff writer

Sam Rose, a San Domino High School student, has been charged with drug possession, assault with a deadly weapon, and poisoning or adulterating a drink. Sam Rose, a sophomore, allegedly poisoned Cory Jones and Rene Guerrero's drinks during Hell Night. All three were associated with Sigma Zeta Zeta Pi.

Sigma Zeta Zeta Pi is an unofficial club modeled after the college fraternity system. The club used traditions, ceremonies, and Greek symbols just as the colleges do. Each year 10th graders are recruited to be pledges. Sam Rose was one of them.

Sigma Zeta Zeta Pi prided itself on "original and severe" hazing practices. San Domino High school specifically prohibits students from participating in their activities.

During pledge season both Sigma Zeta Zeta Pi pledges and members felt as though Sam received harsher treatment than the other pledges.

On Hell Night, which concludes pledge season, all members, pledges, and some alumni were present. Activities included everything from forcing pledges to drink cup after cup of alcohol to swallowing live goldfish.

Members had their own personalized beer stein. About halfway through Hell Night Jones and Guerrero asked Rose to refill their steins. Rose did so and returned the steins filled with beer. Soon, however, Jones felt extreme chills and Guerrero had a high temperature.

The police and an ambulance crew arrived. Hell Night ended, students were taken home, and both Jones and Guerrero were taken to the hospital.

Jones and Guerrero both tested positive for rohypnol and rohypnol residue was found in their steins. Rohypnol was later found at Rose's home. Rose was arrested and charged with these crimes. He will testify on his own behalf.

As true as this story may sound, it is not. Mock Trial has begun and this is the fictitious case they are working on. Though all trial members are yet to be determined, returning members include Denise Lee, Alex Matthews, Lisa Aragon, and Misty Hocking. The trial will be played out in court in February.

West Sacramento supports schools

By Jennifer Fiddler
Co-Editor

Congratulations, West Sacramento. Future River City students now have something to look forward to! On November 2, Measure R was passed. Of 3,840 voters 3,032 or 79.3% voted to pass Measure R giving Washington Unified School District the money that they need to improve their schools.

The passing of this bond was a community effort. Students, staff, and community volunteers went door-to-door handing out information about the bond and what would happen if it passed. All of their hard work paid off in the end.

The next step is to decide what will be done first. There will be a district-wide oversight committee that will decide what the next steps are going to be.

The Review would like to thank the city of West Sacramento for passing Measure R. Thank you for giving us the chance to get a better education and become better people in the future.

Upward Bound is a program designed to help potential first generation college students gain the skills and motivation to succeed in college. Offered at RC by UC Davis, Upward Bound participants meet weekly after school for counseling, tutoring, and special activities with UCD student advisors. There are four Saturday trips to the UCD campus, for a series of workshops.

Committed students are invited to attend a six-week summer residential program on the UCD campus.

Mr. Warner mistaken for punk rock bad boy

By Christian Lucero
Staff Writer

When you walk down the halls you see the usuals, the teachers. One who has a real story, an interesting one, too, is Mr. Warner. Mr. Warner is far from ordinary.

Mr. Warner has been a student teacher at El Camino High and with Mr. Tate and Ms. Brown at Golden State. He said that it has been a good learning experience. This is his first year teaching all by himself. He said, "Its fun. It's like piloting. You're always making decisions."

Piloting? Mr. Warner was a Marine Corp helicopter pilot for seven years. During Desert Storm he was in officer training, not participating. He has been to places such as Korea and islands off Japan. The reason why he stopped being a Marine is because he only saw his family every six months.

Yep, that's right, ladies, he's married and has three kids: ages 8, 6,and 4. He said he enjoys such things as camping and remodeling his house. He watches sports not so often and loves doing things with his kids.

Yes, Mr. Warner is the one with the white eyebrow. He says his pigmentation is called, "vitaligo," which has been a dark cloud since his sophomore year of high school. Since this was in the '80s, punk rock times, people thought he was one of the "bad boys." He claims that it was a problem.

Mr. Warner said, "My interest in teaching is because I can relate to kids better than adults." And, he strongly believes in giving to his community.

Mr. Medina aka Enzyme Boy

Science teacher says he was a Madegascar hissing roach in his previous life

By Brianne Vaughan
Staff Writer

With the departure of Ms. Jain to Davis High School, Mr. Medina stepped in to be the new physiology teacher. He finds physiology "fantastic" and a lot of fun. But above all, his enjoyment lies in teaching his two periods of sheltered physical science, as it is a "whole different culture." On other topics...

Q. If you had a 5 CD disc changer, what would be in it?
A. I have a 5 CD disc changer...
Q. OK, 7 CD disc changer.
A. The new Carlos Santana [ya know, the one with Rob Thomas from Matchbox 20 on vocals], the new Jewel, Cat Stevens [jazz] definitely, Fiona Apple, definitely Meredith Brooks, Tracey Chapman, and classical, like Mozart.
Q. Do you have any recurring dreams?
A. [After some deliberation] I do have one; it's a nightmare. I get beaten by [fellow science teachers] Loforte and King.
Q. Are you afraid of spiders? (By the way, don't ask this of a science teacher.)
A. No! I love spiders.
Q. What were you in a previous life?
A. [Matter-of-factly] A Madagascar hissing roach [In fact, he's got a whole family of 'em in his class-in a cage! He's even named the parents of the 21 babies Concieta and Tyberous, the latter from Star Trek. Mr. Medina is a trekkie—he doesn't dress up, but he owns all the movies.]

Mr. Medina arrived in America from Mexico in 1983. He began work installing air conditioning but moved on to manage a record store in LA, where he began his enduring and deep-seeded hatred of Depeche Mode. He was also a playground monitor, assistant manager at Sear's hardware department, and supervisor in "Cable in the Classroom" at Sac State before making his true calling as a science teacher an actuality. Asked if he ever thought he'd be a high school science teacher, he simply and profoundly stated, "Yup." Equally profoundly...

Q. Do you think that flowers scream when you pick them?
A. I don't think they scream, they feel.
Q. If you were a household appliance, what would you be?
A. Definitely a microwave—I'd get things done quickly with the least effort.
Q. Can you do any impressions?
A. No, I have no artistic talent what-so-ever (LOL).
Q. If you were on This Is Your Life, what would you least like them to produce from your past?
A. My years from 20 to 24.
Q. How many languages do you speak?
A. Two: Spanish and English.
Q. What's your most annoying habit?
A. Well...they call me 'Enzyme Boy' [enzymes are catalysts that start reactions. In other words, Mr. Medina's always startin' somethin'] and 'Diablo'.
Q. If you started your own business, what would you sell?
A. Practical joke toys and jokes (his favorite is the whoopee cushion).

Mr. Medina taught physical science and biology here last year, including summer school. This is his first full year. If he had his way, he would teach students all about insects and to respect them. His favorite thing to teach right now, other than his sheltered classes, is human physiology. His most cherished aspect of being a science teacher is that he gets to deal with science in everyday life. His love for science inspires his students.

"He makes it clear that he enjoys [teaching science]. He wants others to enjoy it, too. His joy rubs off on his students," one commented. "My science year was easy due to him. I didn't dread coming to class as with other teachers."

Turkey not on first Thanksgiving menu

By Shelley Tuttle and Lanna Kalista
Staff Writers

People view Thanksgiving in various ways. Some see it as time off school, while others see it as a time to spend with family and friends. Still others see it as a time to eat, and eat, and eat. But the truth is, Thanksgiving began as a feast celebrating the Pilgrims' first year in America. Three social science teachers on campus have given their interpretations of the countries' harvest celebration.

Ms. Carlisle:

The Pilgrims were a group of approximately 101 men, women and children who left their homeland of England to find religious freedom. They first traveled to Holland, but parents were worried the Dutch would influence their children in negative ways. So in 1620 they set out for America on their ship the Mayflower. Many died on the journey across the Atlantic. When they landed at Plymouth they had no idea what they were doing. With the help of the Indians the Pilgrims were able to make it through their first winter. The main reason the Indians helped the Pilgrims was because they didn't want the new Americans to steal all the food and supplies they had worked so hard for. Once the Pilgrims made it through their first winter they had a feast that lasted for several days and invited the Wampanoag Indians, who had helped them greatly. But after that first year the relationship between the natives and the settlers fell apart.

Several years ago, Ms. Carlisle along with Ms. Catchot, applied for a grant from the district to find out what was really eaten for Thanksgiving and offer that meal to RCHS students. Though they didn't receive the grant, they did do the research. In the original Thanksgiving meal, there was no turkey or mashed potatoes. In fact, the Pilgrims served mostly wild game, fish, corn, and wine. "We were going to have everything but the wine in our reenactment," said Ms. Carlisle. "Too bad we were denied the grant."

Mr. Fogle:

Thanksgiving began when the Pilgrims celebrated the fact that they had made it through their first winter. Though they later thought of the Indians as children of Satan, the new settlers probably would not have made it through that winter without the help of America's native people. The original Thanksgiving took place in 1621, but it wasn't made a national holiday until some point during Abraham Lincoln's presidency.

Mr. Sanborn:

Most agricultural countries have harvest festivals, and Thanksgiving is America's. The first Thanksgiving was a celebration of the completion of the Pilgrim's first year in the new world. The winter had been hard, but with the help of the Indians, the white settlers pulled through. At first the settlers and natives were friends, but hostile feelings developed. Soon, European diseases that Indians weren't immune to spread through Native American villages. Huge populations died of smallpox and other foreign diseases. That's when the white men moved onto Indian lands.

As you talk with your family while pigging out in front of the football game this Thanksgiving, don't forget why America observes this holiday: to give thanks for all of our blessings.

Not just kids go crazy over Pokemon

By Brandy Sherrill
Co-Editor

Pokemon, Pokemon, Pokemon! Wherever I go I can't escape Pokemon. In class I look across the room and someone is wearing a Pokemon shirt or someone has a Pokemon key chain hanging on a backpack. I go home and my 12-year-old brother is trading Pokemon cards with his friends or watching the show.

Pokemon, a Japanese animation, is a cartoon, plus trading cards, Nintendo games, card games, and books. Pokemon are little creatures that battle each other to gain experience. There are over 150 Pokemon species. Some of the most popular Pokemon are Pikachu, Squirtle, and Charmander.

Pokemon, which seems to be aimed at young children, has had an impact on all ages. Christina Gomez, a recent RC graduate, has spent over 30 hours playing Pokemon on her Gameboy. She also collects the trading cards, which she and my 12-year-old brother have occasionally traded.

> People have tried to explain the game to me, but I can't make much sense of it.

Heather Johnson, a senior, also plays Pokemon. She has already beat the game and is now doing it again. Asked why she plays so much, she said, "It is one of the only games I am good at."

Pokemon cards are sold where I work, and I have seen children of all ages buy Pokemon cards. Even adults come in and buy them. You might think that they were buying them for their children or grandchildren. That's what I thought, too, until one man explained to me that he and his wife collected Pokemon cards.

A guy in his early 20's came in and bought $100 worth . Asked what he was going to do with them, he said, "I will keep all of the ones I don't have and then sell the others."

Pokemon are very popular. When 7-11 gets Pokemon cards in, they never last more than three days, and most of the time they are gone the night that they come into the store.

Kids go crazy over these little creatures. They rush home to watch the cartoon, and play their Nintendo games. Students go to friends and trade, sell, and buy Pokemon cards as well as play the game. People have tried to explain the game to me, but I can't make much sense of it.

Pokemon has become so popular and time-consuming among kids that some schools are banning it. Some say that it is allowing kids to gamble. Besides gambling, young children who are inexperienced with the value of their Pokemon are being ripped off the by older kids.

Fans will like Pokemon The First Movie

By Brandy Sherrill

The new Pokemon movie, Pokemon The First Movie, is out in theaters and kids are going crazy. Every kid I see is saying something about the movie.

I recently took my 12-year-old brother to see it. I was actually amazed that I didn't fall asleep during the movie. Even though I'm not a Pokemon fan, the movie kept my attention.

The theater was filled with impatient kids waiting for the movie to start. There was a couple sitting next to us that bought 100 movie tickets, spending $500 just to get the limited edition Pokemon cards, which were handed out on the first day the movie started.

When the lights dimmed and the movie started, the theater was filled with anxious kids clapping and shouting.

The first half hour was a short piece called Pikachu's Vacation. In Pikachu's Vacation they introduced some of the Pokemon characters and explained what they did.

Then the movie began. It all starts in a science lab where some scientist has created the strongest Pokemon ever, Mewtoo. They created him from the DNA of Mewtwo, the rarest Pokemon.

Mewtwo becomes enraged and feels betrayed because he feels he has no purpose, so he destroys the science lab.

Mewtwo then decides to start cloning his own Pokemon so he can destroy all the other Pokemon and control the world.

Mewtwo then calls all the Pokemon trainers to come to his island where he has rebuilt the lab. Only a few make it and he steals all of their Pokemon and clones them. Ash, one of the Pokemon trainers, destroys the cloning machine getting Pikachu out. This releases all of the Pokemon, who start battling their clones. Mew and Mewtwo also start fighting.

Ash jumps into Mew and Mewtwo's battle and is killed. All of the Pokemon start crying because Pikachu is upset because he can't wake Ash up. The Pokemon bring Ash back to life with their tears and then it ends with Mewtwo destroying all of the clones and apologizing for doing such a terrible thing.

Everybody's memory is erased, and all goes back to normal.

Personally I wouldn't recommend anybody that is not into Pokemon go, but I think people who like Pokemon will enjoy it. It was better than I thought it would be.

My brother was glued to the screen throughout the whole movie, and after it was over I couldn't get him to shut up about it or the Pokemon cards that he got.

More new shows

Time Of Your Life takes Sarah to NYC

In the last issue the staff critiqued TV's new shows. However, all the new shows were not included. Here are three more.

Time Of Your Life is definitely worth your time. Jennifer Love Hewitt comes back as Sarah Reeves. This time she is in New York with two missions: to find her biological father and discover herself. She shares her mother's old apartment with Romy, her new zany pal who is trying desperately to become a successful actress.

And watch out for Sarah's new love interest, the sassy and unbelievably cute Maguire. Also keep a lookout for Spencer, Mrs. Halloway's spoiled but very handsome son. I wouldn't be surprised to see sparks fly between Sarah and one of these hotties, as soon as she tells Bailey that she is going to stay in New York.

Safe Harbor duplicates Seventh Heaven

Safe Harbor is one of the many new shows coming out. Safe Harbor is a duplicate of Seventh Heaven. It is another family show with harmless plots, language, and characters. I personally felt it was pretty corny. The stories weren't that well written; however, the actors and actresses did play them out well. It's more of a 9-12 year-olds show. The show wasn't really horrible; maybe it was a little too "safe." I definitely wouldn't recommend it to any teenagers, but if you would like to check it out for yourself, it airs on Monday nights from 9-10 pm on the WB.

Shasta McNasty filled with slapstick comedy

If you're a person who enjoys pointless humor, Shasta McNasty is the t.v. show just for you. Shasta McNasty is about three guys that once had a rap group, and now share an apartment. In every episode they continually get into strange situations filled with moderately obscene adult slapstick comedy. So if you have no problem with laughing, watch Shasta McNasty. It airs Tuesday nights at 8 on channel 31, or if you don't fear modern technology, channel 7.

Georgina Arch is a dare devil at heart

By Olivia De Mars
Sports Editor

Standing high up on a bridge 1,500 feet in the air, Georgina Arch waits for the perfect moment. Then with a feeling of complete readiness she jumps from the bridge, plunging straight for the ground below her. The sudden jerk of the bungee cord catches her as she springs back toward the bridge.

No, Georgina has never bungee jumped in her life but she would someday like to do it. "I would just like to bungee jump for the thrill of it," said Georgina. "It is something people wouldn't expect me to do and I would do it to prove to them that I could and that I wasn't scared."

In reality Georgina is a senior volleyball player and is known for her ability to dive for the volleyball. She has been playing the game for eight years now and all that experience "has made me into a better volleyball player," she said.

Georgina's sports life doesn't only include volleyball she also plays basketball and softball. She has been playing basketball for eight years and unlike volleyball, basketball is her favorite sport. Defense has always been Georgina's favorite part of the game but didn't hesitate to comment that she liked the running because it kept her in shape.

"I've never come across a person that has more heart than Georgina," said Coach Smith, "Anything she does she always gives it her all. Agility is what she excels at."

After graduation Georgina plans on attending college but only for an education. Sports hold no future for her so she is getting her fill of them in high school. Asked what she planned on doing for a future career Georgina said, "I don't know. I'm just going to go to college to get my basic requirements done with and then when I decide on future career I'll take the classes I need."

As for sports, Georgina said, "I just play sports for fun."

Freshmen move up to j.v. to help team win final games against toughest teams

By Olivia De Mars
Sports Editor

The freshman Raiders have done it! They are the reigning champions of the G.E.L. freshman league.

In their championship game against the Lincoln Zebras, the Raiders scored early in the first quarter on a 32 counter up the middle by Jason De Mars. Then De Mars caught the two-point conversion pass to make the score 8-0, Raiders.

On the Zebra's offensive drive down the field they scored, but failed to make the two-point conversion that left the score 8-6, Raiders. The game was shaky the final three quarters of the game. Both teams came close to scoring but never quite made it.

"I am proud of my line," said Coach Gabe, the freshman lineman coach. "They did great blocking this year and our defensive line was outstanding! The Big Ugly O is back!"

The next week the Raiders were to play the same team again, but Lincoln forfeited so the freshmen coaches made a decision. Instead of playing one more freshman game, they would move up the whole freshman team to j.v. to play two more games, against Colfax and Mesa Verde. The two toughest teams in the league.

In the game against Colfax the j.v. Raiders had an offensive drive up the field that produced a touchdown and a failed extra-point attempt. The rest of the game the ball went up and down the field, but both teams were unable to score.

Their most recent game was against the Mesa Verde Mavericks, an undefeated team, and River City's goal was to be "the spoilers" (the team that ruins another teams winning season by giving them that one defeat). The Raiders did just that, beating the Mavericks with a score of 7-6.

"I consider my team champions," said Coach Elliott, head coach for the j.v. football team. "We beat the 'championship' team, so we are the champions."

Jayvee has double victories

Jayvee volleyball is over and everyone is pleased with the season. Jayvee ended their last week with double victories. On November 2, they beat Mesa Verde 15-2 and 15-2 at home. On November 3, they traveled to Encina and won 15-2 and 15-6. They ended the whole season with five wins and nine losses, in league. Their record was 10 wins and 15 losses, overall.

"We played really good this year," said player Alex Lokleff. She played on last year's team, also. "There weren't as many games as there were last year," Alex added.

"Our season was a total team effort," said Coach Martin. "I would like to say thanks for a great volleyball season. The players were dedicated and hard working all year long. This team was a pleasure to coach," she added

RC soccer sets high standard

By Brianne Vaughan
Staff Writer

More than 120 people cheered under the bright lights of Dixon High School as the River City soccer team got their taste of the Tournament of Champions: the first taste an RC soccer team has had since 1982. Though they lost, they went home winners. The team set a goal in August to make it to the tournament—and they did.

The Raiders ended the season at second place in the Golden Empire League with 1 tie, 4 losses, and 13 wins—the best record in Coach Restivo's 10 years of coaching here at River City. The team "never gave up, played hard, kept good attitudes— even had fun, too! So did the coaches," said Coach Restivo.

They have set a high goal for future players and teams to aspire to. Coach Restivo said that much credit and respect goes to Coach Memo Villegas for teaching gamesmanship and bringing out the best in each player.

Next year will be a building year for the team because they are losing 10 varsity players. But there are a lot of good 9th and 10th graders and returning varsity players. In two years, "we'll be in the hunt for a playoff and championship," said Coach Restivo.

"I'll miss those seniors next year—they're great people—I wish them the best," he added.

Cheerleaders have no social lives

River City Cheerleaders say they give up their social lives for practice, games, and competitions. Varsity cheerleaders will compete at Disneyland on March 5.

By Coty Marshall
Staff Writer

Some people are saying that cheerleaders don't work hard; they don't have a real "purpose" anymore. Cheerleaders used to get the crowd up and really into cheering their team on. Now it seems it has become more of the crowd watching them cheer on their team. One student said, "They're not necessary. We could have sports with out them." However, this same student also said," They are very talented. I don't know many people who can do the things they do." Talking with RC's cheerleading coach Leslie Pruitt and cheerleaders Felicia Ortega and Kristina Norris, some of the misconceptions about cheerleaders were cleared up.

Asked what she thought cheerleading does for school spirit and the Raiders, Leslie answered immediately, "I think that cheerleading builds school and team spirit. We try to get them [the crowd] cheering their team on."

Felicia said, "We can only do so much for the school spirit. It really depends on the school. Many times, they won't help us out by cheering. We have a really spirited j.v. football team this year. They always chant with us and at away games, they help us whenever we need it."

There are several misconceptions about cheerleaders, including what is required of them. "To be a cheerleader, you have to basically give up your social life," said Leslie. "Just like in any other sport, cheerleaders are required to maintain a 2.0 GPA. During the summer, the cheerleaders practice three hours a day. When school starts, they have two-hour practices three times a week, with a game on the fourth day."

Kristina Norris, a member of the j.v. squad explained, "We have no social life. The sport of cheerleading is a non-stop team effort. We work very hard; we practice three hours a day. We do stunts, dances, and competitions. We have extra practice for competitions. I personally think that cheerleaders deserve much more credit than they receive."

> "To be a cheerleader, you have to basically give up your social life. Just like in any other sport, cheerleaders are required to maintain a 2.0 GPA. During the summer, the cheerleaders practice three hours a day. When school starts, they have a two hour practices three times a week, with a game on the fourth day."
> -- Leslie Pruitt

Felicia says, being a cheerleader is hard work. "You have no free time. When you have homework, a job, or chores at home, on top of cheerleading, it requires so much effort."

The competition squad practices four days a week, with a game on the fifth day. Cheerleaders only get two weeks off in the summer. They practice from the middle of June to the end of basketball season every year.

Cheerleaders are constantly working on stretching, learning cheers, dancing, and stunts. Leslie said, "The stunts really require a lot of energy, muscle, and strength."

Asked what her favorite part of cheerleading is, Felicia said, "I can't really say that there's one thing about cheerleading. There are a lot of great things about cheerleading. We have so much fun at the summer camps and during half times." She added, "Another great thing is that you have the opportunity to make new friends and you get to know different sides of people in cheerleading."

There are 15 RC cheerleaders altogether, ten varsity and five j.v. The varsity squad's captain is Felicia Ortega. Erin Cheechov is assistant captain, and she also helps out the j.v. squad. The rest are Kaitlyn Bravo, Kelsi Brewer, Alicia Mosher, Natalie Murphy, Ashley Myers, Tammy White, Katie Young, and another who will join for basketball season, Tina Jaramillo.

The j.v. squad consists of Anna Cheechov, Shannon Fristoe, Amanda Hughes, Christian Lucero, and Christina Norris.

On Nov 6, the cheerleaders went to a competition, where they received a participation plaque. This season, they will be participating in five local competitions. In March, RC cheerleaders will compete at Disneyland.

Leslie is also in charge of a new dance team this year. There are now nine RC students on the team: Jennifer Fiddler, Leah Riggs, Chanel Briggs, Leslee Thompson, Katie Harris, Ristina Tilson, Jireh Queen, Laura Carter, and Joana Sandoval.

Leslie is hoping to build the team up for next year when they will be more competitive. One member of the dance team, Ristina Tilson, said that she's hoping they will be going to away games and participating in some competitions. This year the dance team will be performing during half time at home basketball games.

Varsity football goes 4-6

By Jason De Mars
Staff Writer

Did you know that this year's graduating varsity football team hasn't lost to Encina for the past three years? The varsity wasn't going to break that record by letting Encina win their senior year and River city won 45-28.

Malfred Shaw scored three times. Robert Cervantes sacked the quarter back for a safety and had a two-yard touchdown run up the middle. Yasser Salman had a 35-yard touchdown catch, and an interception for a four-yard touchdown. Morton Geivett kicked four extra point field goals.

The next game was against the Colfax Falcons. Coach Elliot said, "This is the team to beat." The Raiders started off slow with the score 13-0, Colfax in the first quarter. But just when it seemed like the Raiders would be stopped on another offensive drive, Malfred Shaw broke up the middle for an 80-yard run and was tackled on the one-yard line. They gave the ball to Roy Butz up the middle for a one-yard touchdown, which made the score 20-7 at half time.

The Raiders kicked the ball off their ten-yard line but the Falcons made no ground and punted the ball away. The ball was downed on the Raiders one-yard line. The Raiders drove the ball to the 43-yard line and Malfred Shaw ran outside down the sideline for a 56-yard touchdown. Morton Geivett kicked a field goal which made the score 27-14, Colfax. With 5:10 left in the game, the Raiders had to put in a trick play, a fake reverse, and Frankie Medina ran it in for the touchdown. The Falcons scored three more times, which ended the game at a 40-21, a victory for Colfax.

The Raiders' last game was against the undefeated Mesa Verde Mavericks. The first half was shaky with stops on the ten holding Mesa Verde from scoring twice. The Raiders left the half 0-0. In the fourth quarter, with 4:38 seconds left in the game, Marshaun Tate ran a reverse in for the touchdown and Morton Geivett kicked a field goal to make the score 7-0, Raiders. On a lucky drive by Mesa Verde they drove their way down the field and scored. Then Mesa Verde decided to go for the win and on a pass play they did. The final score was 8-7, Mesa Verde.

Dear Sprung,

First off, watch where you are going! Second, you have got to lose the valley-girl talk! The "likes" and "oh my God's!" are just not going to get your Romeo's attention. At least, not the kind of attention you're looking for. Don't flip your hair and giggle for him no matter what! He and his friends probably laugh at you. We're not trying to bash you and make you change everything about yourself. We just have the inside scoop and details on what a guy thinks of a girl, and what will get his attention. If you want this guy, stop like acting like a moron. He might end up saying "hi" and striking up a conversation with you if you're not acting so ditzy! Good luck, and "keep your eyes on the prize."

CHINESE BEING RAIDED REGULARLY, BUT NO EVIDENCES OF GAMBLING BEING TAKEN

Raided yesterday evening by Constable Buckingham and William Bartie, the Chinese inhabiting the Washington Hotel were quietly going along about their affairs and no evidence of a gambling character was taken except that some old lottery tickets were picked up in a garbage box in one of the places.

The large building erected by the Chinese near the M street bridge is now inhabited by Chinese of Sacramento. The place is well lighted at night and lookouts are posted at each door in the building, but so far as any person can see there is no gambling on the premises. What may be going on behind closed doors it is impossible to guess or to surmise.

From the places occupied by the Chinese on Anne street and on Second street all the furnishings and furniture have been removed, some to the building near the M street bridge and some returned to Sacramento.

Those places on Anne street and on Second street are black as night with no evidences of habitation showing.

WEST SACRAMENTO ROAD IS NEARING COMPLETION

Although it appeared two weeks ago that the road in West Sacramento extending from the church to Riverview would be finished in a few days, a mishap to the concrete mixer has delayed its completion until now with the probability that the last of the concrete will be laid tomorrow.

Yesterday six hundred feet remained to be finished, but with a full working force and the machinery in good order a stretch of 210 feet could be laid each day.

Those deeply interested in the finishing of this stretch of road fear that rain may come along and become the means of ruining this road.

The sides of the road are near dirt that will yield under any kind of load in wet weather. Autoists getting stuck in this muck will not hesitate to climb on the fresh concrete and this would be extremely injurious to the new road.

Another week of dry weather will place this road in such a solid condition that it will likely last for years but should rain come along there is liable to be damage.

Wonder will it make much difference whether the feed on Thanksgiving comes out of a gobbler or a hen.

SEVERAL PLACES RAIDED; SEVEN ARRESTS MADE

Enforcement officers under the guidance of Walter J. Burke, chief of a number of dry operatives working in Yolo County out of District Attorney George T. Kern's office, swooped down on Washington last Thursday night, arrested seven men, seized an estimated 900 gallons of assorted wines and jackass, captured a still, and increased the arrests for blind pigging and bootlegging within the past 18 hours to twelve.

Wine and jackass flowed freely in all of these places, according to one federal operative discussing the wholesale raid where men, women and children were present at booze orgies wherein operatives were treated as freely as men who had lived years in the community and were well known to the venders of the illicit viands. Evidence on all of the places had been gathered weeks ago. The places had been watched. Operatives visited them freely and drank often. Evidence galore was obtained, according to both Kern and one of the operatives who declared that his real name and the name he worked under were two different things.

In one of the popular drink houses entered and arrested by the authorities, with Sheriff J. W. Monroe as the principal arresting officer, one of the visitors to the place asked a small girl of tender years for a drink.

The girl wispered to her mother who was master of ceremonies in the place. In a moment or so the girl returned to the applicant for a drink and said, in a stage whisper:

"Mamma says no more tonight."

There was a reason. Woman intuition knew that something was wrong. The atmosphere about the place was not normal. And she was correct, for, according to the operative, a moment later the place was "pinched."

All of the cases will go before Superior Judge W. A. Anderson for final determination. Justice of the Peace R. W. Harrison will hold preliminary hearings and, if the evidence is sufficient will bind the men over for trial in the higher court. Kern is making all of the charges in the case on hand indictable misdemeanors.

In most of the Washington places entered last Thursday night there were women. All of them were belligerent and told the arresting officers what they thought of them. Efforts were made to destroy evidence. The women fought to keep officers from getting what they went after. They did not know that all of the necessary evidence is alleged to have been obtained before the raids.

Sheriff Monroe stated that the raid was one of the largest in the history of the county.

Monroe did not pretend to know just how much illicit liquor was confiscated, but said it was enough to care for the wants of all the thirsty for months to come.

SUPERVISORS WILL ASK RE-ELECTION NEXT AUGUST

Woodland, Nov. 20.—All doubt as to whether Lee R. Hutchings, Shadrock Gladney and Wm. Leinberger are to be candidates for re-election to the Yolo County Board of Supervisors was removed today when all three announced informally that they would again be in the field.

"I'll run as long as the people want me," said Gladney who is representing the people of the Guinda, Capay Valley, Esparto and Madison districts, as well as the Yolo district. Some weeks ago it had been hinted that Gladney would not seek re-election.

"Yes, I think I'm entitled to a second term and I am going to ask for it," was the way Supervisor Hutchings of Woodland expressed his intentions.

Leinberger said that he has no intention at this time of retiring. "There is much important work unfinished in my district and I desire to complete the job," said the man from Washington.

The primaries are slated for next August.

Chairman W. O. Russell and F. B. Edson are in the "I don't worry" class insofar as their supervisoral jobs are concerned. They were successful a year ago.

The Independent has been unable to interview Supervisor Leinberger concerning the above story published in the Democrat on November 20th.

At the last election Leinberger was elected without opposition and his work on the board since that time has been of such character that it is believed he will likely go through this time also without opposition.

In all likelihood there will be a Republican candidate in opposition to him, for no doubt the Republicans will see to it that there will be a candidate in the field.

BIDS BEING ASKED FOR LIBRARY BUILDING AT DAVIS

At the meeting of the board of supervisors of Yolo County to be held on December 3d next, bids will be received for the construction of a library building within the town of Davis.

At this writing some of the principal streets of Davis are being improved by the supervisors with the provision that those portions left unpaved shall be finished from funds put up by the residents within the incorporated community.

Winters has also asked the board of supervisors for co-operation in improving its streets and that question will be threshed out at the meeting in December or at a meeting to be held later during the month of January.

CASE NUMBER PB99-220

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of CARL WILLIAM JOHNSON, aka CARL W. JOHNSON, C.W. JOHNSON:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Charles Elven Johnson in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Charles Elven Johnson be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on 12-3-99 at 8:30 a.m. in Dept. 2, 725 Court St., Woodland, CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Every child deserves the best opportunities life has to offer. Especially yours.

Of course, the odds of her playing pro basketball are a long shot. But the chances are more than 1 in 4 that your baby isn't protected against childhood diseases like polio, measles, chicken pox, tetanus and others.

So, even if you're sure your child is up to date and on schedule with her baby shots, ask your doctor at every visit. It couldn't hurt.

In fact, it could give her a shot to be a star in any profession.
